We acquire your personal information through forms on the Website / App, optional online surveys, and third-party sources.

Location

By using this Website/App, you acknowledge and agree that the Services supplied to You depend on Your location and work best when We have access to your mobile device's location. We utilize Your location data from Your mobile device whenever You use the Website / App to customize Your experience. This information is kept strictly confidential and can be used exclusively to provide the requested services to the User. The Website / App's functionality would be severely limited if You do not allow Us to determine Your location.

Informatics Management

To offer our services, we need to collect and utilize specific information from you, the User. This Service includes communication, advertising, and information on upcoming events. We also answer your questions and pass along pertinent information. We may use:

- Your information to send You email or other communications regarding updates to the Website or App.
- Operate and improve the Website and App to foster a positive User experience; and comply with the applicable laws.

All of our users' combined demographic, behavioral, and indirect information is used, such as the most frequently visited pages and the most often used services. Anonymized and compiled, this data is utilized. We use this data to determine what is best for our customers and how we can improve their overall experience. Also, we may use your information to ensure compliance with relevant laws.

Analyzing the usage of Our resources, diagnosing issues, and avoiding fraud are just a few of the ways we utilize information about Your mobile device and computer hardware and software.

Rendering Access to Data

To help people discover You, the Website and App enable you to share your personal information. Our disclosures to third parties include, but are not limited to:

- disclosing your user information so that service providers may contact you about their services;
- disclosing your user information to third parties that assist Us in providing our services to you.

We only reveal your information to firms and persons authorized to act on our behalf, and we will only disclose your information to other parties with your approval.

Our partners and affiliates may receive aggregate information about how visitors use Our Website to create a better overall experience for You if you indicate that you would like to receive information from them about their opportunities, products, or services. We may share aggregated information about how visitors use our Website. Our partners and affiliates. When necessary, we'll hand up user data to comply with the law, defend our interests, or those of our connected firms, thwart criminal activity or safeguard national security, or ensure the well-being of our users and the general public.

On the Website or App, there are external links.

Adverts, connections to other websites, apps, information, or resources may be found on the Website / App. These external links on the website/app are supplied by third parties over whom we have no control. Any external sites, apps, businesses, or individuals that may acquire or disclose your data are not under our control. We do not support the advertising, goods, or other content offered by such sites, applications, companies, or persons.

It is your responsibility & duty to ensure that any external applications, websites, or resources that collect and/or disclose your personal information do so in a manner that is consistent with this Policy and does not violate the privacy policies of any third parties. We are not responsible for any loss or damage resulting from Your reliance on the completeness or accuracy of the information provided by such applications, websites, or resources. Your information may be subject to the privacy policies of these other apps, websites, and resource providers. You should be aware of this. The external application or Website's Policy on privacy should be reviewed.

What's new with your data?

All your user information is available for you to access and edit on the Website / App. The right to verify and confirm your identity and the information you provide about yourself is one that we hold dear. We Can deny or restrict Your access to, or correct, update, or deletion of Your User Information if doing so would infringe on the rights of another person or if it is authorized by law.

To update this privacy policy.

Updates, changes, or modifications to this Privacy Policy may occur. As soon as the updated, changed, or modified Privacy Policy is published, it takes effect. Even if modifications have been made, Your continued use of the Website or App would be interpreted as Your tacit consent to the new Privacy Policy.

Tracking Methods Including Cookies

We use cookies and other methods of tracking. For example, a cookie may gather information about how users interact with a website. Other technologies, such as cookies, may be used to retrieve data that a user has already provided. You can manage cookies in most browsers if you don't want cookies. In most browsers, you may select whether or not to get a notification when a cookie is placed or whether or not to prevent cookies.

Internet domain and host names, IP addresses, browser software, operating system kinds, stream patterns, and dates and times that Our App / Website is viewed are all examples of data that tracking technologies may collect. It is only through the use of cookies and other tracking technologies that we can continually enhance our Website and App.

Disclaimer
